On September 30, a 7.6 magnitude earthquake struck the Sumatra's west coast, toppling structures and displacing thousands from their homes. As the aftershocks continue to rock the area, it is estimated that more than 1,000 Indonesians lost their lives in this disaster. On this same day an earthquake-driven tsunami struck Samoa and the residents of the Philippines were devastated by a violent typhoon. Our friends in the Asia Pacific region need our help.

The Herbalife Family Foundation is helping the victims of these natural disasters by collecting donations that will support disaster relief efforts in the region, providing essential aid for children and families in need.

How you can help

Herbalife Family Foundation will make a donation to the International Red Cross for their relief efforts in Samoa, the Philippines and Indonesia and has established a SKU to receive donations from Distributors that are willing to support this effort.
